

OUT OF THIS WORLD

Sci-Fi and Fantasy August
at Logan North Library

Getting Published for ages 8 to 80

Whether you're aged 8 to 80, or trying to write for those readerships, this session is packed with tips to help you make it in fiction, non-fiction, short stories, novellas or novels

Anita Bell is an award winning and bestselling author, published in most genres including sci-fi, fantasy, mythology, supernatural, crime, memoir, comedy, action/adventure and contemporary romance. With experience in editing, agenting, self-marketing, game and audio adaptations, screenwriting and illustrations, Ms Bell can offer unique insights into all the darkest corners of the publishing industry.

For best value, attendees are invited to bring:

- * their first page of an unpublished work,
- * a punchy 5 to 8 word pitch of what their story is about,
- * a catchy 20 word pitch ,
- * an intriguing 80 word pitch, and/or
- * an intriguing 1 page outline of their story (>200 words).

Where: Logan North Library

When: Saturday, 22 August 2009

Time: 10.00 am – 12 noon

Bookings essential

Ph: 3412 4140